

Captain Michael Fielding, Foreign Expert, to Address Dinner Club Nov. 15

Captain Michael Fielding, who called "the turn" on many occasions during World War II and who has been forecasting events of an international flavor with an amazing "90 percent" accuracy, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Southern Illinois Dinner Club Thursday evening, Nov. 15, at the Kurto Country club. The dinner will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Fielding, who achieved his rank fighting in the Indian Army during World War I and who served with that army until 1920, is now an American citizen and has been associated with such newspapers as the Chicago Tribune, the Chicago Journal and other papers and periodicals. He has frequently appeared on large radio stations as a commentator and news analyst.

The personable Captain staunchly states that World War III is not inevitable, and that political observers who say it is are either wrong or have been misinformed. He will give club members here, reasons why a third World War will be averted.

Captain Michael Fielding

Members should make advance reservations for the meeting with Rees Turner, secretary. A large crowd is expected to hear Captain Fielding, an expert on the international situation, and advance reservations must be made.

Eisenhower Turns Attention To Peace; Clements Loses, But Democrats Control Congress

Will Have 48-47 Edge in Senate; Firm in House

Eisenhower's Vote Margin Mounts Toward 9 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats were assured control of both houses of the 85th Congress today after a brief period of confusion when it looked as though they were in jeopardy in the Senate.

Belated election of Republican Thurston B. Morton over incumbent Democratic Sen. Earle C. Clements in Kentucky made the count in the new Senate 49 Democrats to 47 Republicans.

Key to control of that chamber then rested with conservative Democratic senator-elect Frank J. Lausche of Ohio. If he decided, as he had hinted he might, to vote with the GOP, the Republicans would control the Senate.

But in Columbus, Lausche said he would stay on as Ohio governor until his term ends Jan. 14. The new Congress meets Jan. 3, and both houses normally organize on the first day of the session.

So with Lausche absent, the Democrats will have a 48-47 edge, assuming all other senators-elect and holdover members of both parties are present.

The Democrats had won firm control of the House—despite President Eisenhower's mammoth landslide victory over Adlai E. Stevenson.

Morton's Kentucky victory was not determined until after dawn today. His margin of victory was slender—some 5,000 votes.

There was no doubt the Democrats would control the House.

HUNGARIANS FLEE FROM REDS—One of two weeping Hungarian women holds a child too young to understand the swiftly unfolding flow of tragic events as many thousands of Hungarian refugees, mainly old men, women and children, fled across the Austrian border at Klingenberg. Anti-Communist Demonstrations Protest Soviet Acts in Hungary

PARIS (AP)—The French Communist Party called a mass march on Paris tonight to avenge the burning of the party's headquarters by an angry mob protesting Russia's military oppression in Hungary.

Paris was one of several cities throughout the world where violent anti-Communist demonstrations erupted in a spreading protest against the Soviet army's ruthless suppression of the Hungarian revolt.

In New York, Latin America, the Far East, Iceland and major cities of Europe, tension mounted over the Russian intervention. As a protest gesture, diplomats in world-wide points Wednesday night boycotted Soviet festivities commemorating the 39th anniversary of the October Revolution which put Lenin and his followers in power in Russia.

The most explosive situation was in Paris. Thousands of screaming students set fire to the French Communist Party headquarters and the offices of the Communist newspaper Humanite. At least 100 persons were injured in rioting which continued through dawn. More than 200 others were arrested.

Seeking revenge, the French Communists called the march on Paris by workers from the "red belt" suburbs. The government immediately banned the march.

In Reykjavik, Iceland, where Communists made substantial gains in elections earlier this year by promising to eject U. S. units from a NATO airbase, a mob manhandled the Communist speaker of the lower house of Parliament. Speaker Einar Norgjarnsson and another Red politician were hit in the face with rotten eggs.

A mob of shouting pickets clashed with police Wednesday night outside the Soviet United Nations delegation in New York where the Russian delegation was giving a reception on the occasion of the October Revolution anniversary.

Shortly after midnight, 100 students forced their way into the Soviet consulate in Montevideo, Uruguay, and set its offices afire. Shouting "Long live Hungary," the students tossed office equipment through the windows, spread gasoline about and ignited it.

The papers were filed in Saline county circuit court by Attorney General Latham Castle and Atty. George B. Lee of Harrisburg. About 50 defendants are named in the civil proceedings.

Death Takes Mrs. Ira Rude, 93; Rites Saturday

She was the widow of Ira Rude who died in 1903. She was born in Saline county Sept. 21, 1863, the daughter of Levi and Sarah Gwinn. Surviving are the following children: Mrs. John Reynolds, Edwardsville, Mrs. Anna Matthews, Chicago, Willard Rude, Harrisburg, Kenneth, Salem, Ore., Mrs. Raymond Greer, Harrisburg; 13 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

She was a member of the Big Ridge Baptist church. The body will lie in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home where the funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. Clayton Humphrey will officiate and burial will be in Big Ridge cemetery.

U. S. Tightens Its Defenses Across World

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is tightening its defenses throughout the world because of the Eastern European and Middle East crises.

The Defense Department disclosed Wednesday night it has ordered top air, sea and land commanders to tighten up "the nation's defense readiness."

A spokesman for Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said:

"We do not want to be caught flatfooted and at the same time we do not want to take any provocative actions which would get us involved."

The spokesman did not give any details of what specific actions the top commanders were ordered to take.

However, a large naval fleet cruising the Atlantic off Norfolk, Va., was reported to have cancelled training exercises to conduct "readiness" tests. The fleet is headed by the supercarrier Forrestal.

Also, defense sources said some military leaves are being cancelled. But they said no general cancellation has been ordered.

Both the State Department and the White House declined comment.

File Condemnation Proceedings

The State Department of Public Works and Buildings and the People of the State of Illinois today filed condemnation proceedings to get right-of-way for improvements on Route 45 between Carrier Mills and Stonefort.

The papers were filed in Saline county circuit court by Attorney General Latham Castle and Atty. George B. Lee of Harrisburg.

About 50 defendants are named in the civil proceedings.

President Calls Meeting of Security Group

Seeks to Restore Bipartisan Unity Of Congress Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, backed by a landslide vote of confidence from Tuesday's election, turned his full attention today to uniting the nation for peace efforts in the Middle East and Eastern Europe.

He called the top-level National Security Council into session today to review the international crisis. He also set about repairing alliances both at home and abroad.

To restore bipartisan unity on the home front, Mr. Eisenhower invited Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to a White House conference Friday on the foreign situation.

The President, who must work with Democratic majorities in Congress for the next two years, was anxious to show the world that both parties had put the divisions of the election campaign behind and were striving for common foreign policy goals.

Mr. Eisenhower also took another step Wednesday toward trying to restore peace in the Middle East. He sent an urgent appeal to Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion asking that Israeli troops be pulled out of Egypt in compliance with the United Nations resolution calling for withdrawal of all foreign forces and their replacement by a U. N. "police" army.

Israel's threat to hold onto its Sinai Peninsula gains in Egypt looms as a major stumbling block to U. N. efforts to re-establish the status quo in the Middle East.

Fear Delay
The United States fears that any major delay in getting the U. N. contingent into Egypt would be seized on by Russia as an excuse to intervene in the area.

In addition to the message to Ben-Gurion, the White House said there has been a continuing exchange of views between the President and Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru on the Middle East situation. A spokesman declined to specify the nature of the exchange.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower's Friday conference with congressional leaders would be a "serious discussion of what actions we can take and what decisions we have to make in the future" to contribute to peace in the Middle East and Eastern Europe.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Green Candles In Hungarian Windows Showed Extent Of Urgent; Dr. Bela Fabian Predicts Defeat Of Free Hungary
Will Be Start Of World War
III; Other Satellite Countries Are Watching Hungary.

WASHINGTON. — A little man from beleaguered Hungary came to see me the other day. On his left arm was tattooed the number "B.12003," cruel reminder of his slave days in Hitler's Auschwitz concentration camp. He did not show me the number on his arm.
I learned about it by accident.

Dr. Bela Fabian, exiled leader of the Democratic Party in Hungary first came to see me a good many years ago.

In-between, a lot of things had happened. Among them, Arkady Sobolev, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, recently denounced Dr. Fabian as "the leader of the anti-popular underground movement" for which preparation had "begun as early as June 27, 1956."

Sobolev was telling the truth—as far as he knew it. What he didn't know was that Fabian's underground preparation began long before June 27, 1956. It began even before the first time I met him in 1950 when he tipped me off to the fact that the doctor who administered the drug to Cardinal Mindszenty at his trial was now Hungarian minister in Washington. The campaign I waged to force the recall of Dr.
Emil Weil from the Hungarian legation was the result of Dr. Fab-ian's underground intelligence.

GREEN CANDLES IN THE WINDOWS
For years Dr. Fabian had been telling me: "The Hungarian people will revolt. Hungary will be the first country to challenge its Soviet masters. I know my people. I know the unrest among the peasants, even in the army.

With a little help from you Hungary will burst into flame."
"But how do you know this?" I pressed him. "You have been away a long time."
"I will give you one clue," was his reply. "The green candles in the windows. Green is the color of the peasants' party. It has become the symbol of freedom, the symbol of protest, of revolt. All over Hungary you will see green candles in the windows. The Soviets can't stop them."

"You will also see green paint on the walls—slaps of green paint.
It's a symbol. Your crusade for freedom has helped this. Your balloons have helped. They have carried messages which keep the spirit of freedom alive. They have spread green all over Hungary. You do not believe me, but the Hungarian people are stirring. They will rise up when the time comes, and then they will look to you for help."

BEGINNING OF WORLD WAR III
Over and over again during the past five years, the gnarled old refugee from Hungary warned me what was coming. He came back last week to remind me of his warning—and to ask for help.

"What can the United States do?" I asked.
"You can risk a little blood,"
he said. "Risk a little blood now, and you save a great deal of blood later."

"This could be the beginning of World War III," he said, "or it could be the way to head off World War III. It all depends on you.
If you let the Hungarian people down there will be no more revolt behind the Iron Curtain. Poland is watching Hungary. Czechoslovakia is watching. Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania—all are watching Hungary."

"You would not believe me when I told you several years ago that the Hungarian people would be the first to rise. But it was true.
I told you about the green candles

BRIGITTE BARBOTT and Dick Bogarde embrace on the deck in a scene from "DOCTOR AT SEA," in Technicolor, Vista Vision, to show at the Grand Thursday only.

It was true. I have always told you the truth. I told you the truth about Dr. Weil. You exposed him, and he was recalled. He is now dead. They purged him.

"Now is the time for you to help your friends behind the Iron Curtain, if you don't want the Soviet to become a juggernaut which some day will rise up and crush you too."

The old man was stirring his breakfast tea—stirring it, but not drinking it. He was too wrought up, too impassioned to drink. He was thinking back over the years —years of imprisonment, years of sorrow. There had been three stretchers in Russian-Nazi-Communist prison camps; one when he fought in the Hungarian army in World War I, again when he protested the Communist tactics of Bela Kun, and finally Hitler's Auschwitz, when the number B.12003 had been tattooed on his left arm as we tattoo a cow's ear on my farm.

He had survived the snows of Siberia in 1917-18. He had weathered the mass brutality of the Russian revolution. He had written, written—warning of the dangers, the tawdry sham of both communism and fascism. He had become the Democratic party's leading member of the Hungarian parliament, served there for 17 years. Exiled by the Red regime in 1945, he had continued to write, continued to preach freedom.

I remembered, as I watched him stir his tea, my own visit to Hungary right after World War I.
It was a long time ago, but I could still almost hear the agonizing screams of Jews chased by Hungarian officers, swords drawn, down the corridors of the Hotel Hungaria.

"But what can the United States do to help?" I repeated. "What can we do without getting into war? President Eisenhower has been campaigning on the issue of peace. After reminding people how he ended the Korean war, he cannot now risk war in Europe."

The old man finally sipped his tea.
"You win nothing in life without risking something," he told me. "If you take no risks for friends you keep no friends. If you take no risks for freedom you lose your freedom."

"You have heard the cries of the people of Hungary. You have heard their appeals for help. I have told you the truth before—always the truth. I tell you the truth now. If the Soviet crushes the flaming spark of freedom in Hungary—if you let it be crushed
—then you and I, as we sit here, are witnessing a new Russian March of conquest that can lead only to World War III."

You know all that talk you've been hearing about the 1957 new car models being really new?

Well, in the case of the 1957 Buicks it's true — gospel true.

We mean these 1957 Buicks are new in precise and literal sense. We mean new from the ground up, and from gleaming grille to easy taillights.

We mean new lowness, new styling, new bodies, new windshields, new controls, new safety-padded instrument panels,
new safety steering wheels, new seating, new fabrics, new colors.

We mean new front end, new rear end,
new frame, new braking, new steering, new handling, new riding, new roadability—a whole new chassis of greater solidity and safety.

We mean V8 engines new from the crankshaft up—engines that deliver an all-time high in horsepower and compression from their 364-cubic-inch displacement.

And we mean, most of all, an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—so instant in the starting range—so utterly smooth and so totally full-range in "Drive"—that your need for "Low" is practically eliminated.

So come take in these low-silhouette, these boldly beautiful, these instantly obedient Buicks for 1957.

Then you'll see why you can't blame us for being so fired up about it all—and how catching this excitement can be.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional on modest cars too on the Special.

TOM ENDICOTT BUICK COMPANY

HARRISBURG, ILLINOIS

U. S. HIGHWAY 45 SOUTH

NEW DREAM CAR STYLING FOR BUICK. The classic design of Buick's new dream car styling for 1957 is exemplified in the Super four-door hardtop with its low silhouette and racy lines. Powered by a 300-horsepower V-8 engine, with 10-to-1 compression ratio, the Super is one of the most agile cars on the highway. Bigger panoramic windshields, roomier bodies and a completely new chassis are featured on all new Buicks. Buick's variable pitch Dynaflo transmission and power steering are standard on the Super. The new Buick will be on display Friday by Tom Endicott Buick Co., local dealer.

New Buicks Feature New Styling; On Display Friday by Tom Endicott Buick

The new 1957 Buicks, packed with more engineering and style changes than any previous model in Buick history, will be on display Friday at Tom Endicott Buick company, local dealer.

The new line features all-new roomier, bodies, boldly designed in smart, new "dream car" styling, new and more powerful V-8 engines, and a completely new chassis with improved ride and handling.

All of the new cars have been reduced in height. Some models are as much as three and three-eighths inches lower than last year, without any sacrifice in ground clearance. Headroom remains the same and legroom has been increased in the four-door hardtops.

A brand new estate wagon, designed in the same racy, hardtop styling as the other models in the line, is offered in the Century and Special series.

A new 364-cubic inch V-8 engine, with 10-to-1 compression ratio, generates 300 horsepower in the Roadmaster, Super and Century series, an increase of 45 horsepower over last year. The Special, which also has a 364-cubic inch engine, with 9.5-to-1 compression ratio, has a maximum horsepower rating of 250, compared to 230 last year.

The variable pitch Dynaflo transmission, which has proved such a spectacular success, is continued as standard equipment on the Roadmaster, Super and Century, and optional on the Special.

The new styling presents dramatic new front and rear design, bigger panoramic windshields with a more racy slant to the pillars, new bumpers both front and rear, and three-piece back windows on the Special, Century and Roadmaster.

One-piece panoramic back windows are standard on Super models and also are optional on the Roadmaster at no extra cost.

Two entirely new features have been incorporated in the front end suspension system for 1957.

For the first time a ball-joint suspension system is used, improving the stability of the car on corners and curves, and a new anti-dive reduces front end dive on fast stops by approximately 60 per cent.

Coil springs both front and rear are continued on all models.

New interior design includes a new steering wheel, new padded instrument panels, which are standard on the Roadmaster, Super and Century, and optional on the Special, and a larger glove compartment, located near the center of the instrument panel.

Optional on all models is a safety minder which buzzes constantly when a pre-determined speed is reached. The safety minder can be set at any speed desired by turning a knob on the instrument panel.

In Memoriam

In memory of Charles Lowe who passed away six years ago Nov. 7, 1950:
Dear Dad, we miss you in the morning.
We miss you at night.
But since the Lord has taken you, it has shown us all the light.
Your precious memory lingers, we are living closer to God.
As it was your love.
We often cry and feel so blue
When we feel hungry to see and talk to you.
But, our hearts are lightened
When we think of you in that precious land.
And Dad, we plan to meet you
When our time comes to hand.
Sadly missed by wife, Mrs. Elsie Lowe, children and grandchildren. 113-1

Card of Thanks

MOORE — In the midst of our sorrow, we wish to express heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our many relatives, friends and neighbors, for the kindness and sympathy shown us in the loss of a beloved husband and father, John P. Moore. We especially wish to thank the Rev. Raymond Beck and the Rev. W. A. Summers, the donors of all the beautiful flowers, the nephews who served as pallbearers, and the Bean and Tanner Funeral Home for their efficient management of the service.
Mrs. John P. Moore and children. 113-1

Thomas Quotes Lenin to Russians

NEW YORK (AP)—Socialist Leader Norman Thomas quoted Lenin to the Russians today to condemn their bloody drowning of Hungarian freedom.

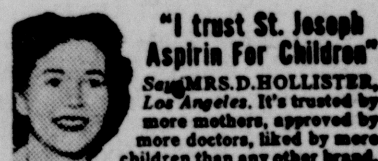

Thomas made public a message to Radio Moscow on the anniversary of the revolution led by Lenin and Trotsky avowedly for bread, peace and the self-determination of peoples.

"Lenin once wrote: 'The Czarist government not only keeps our people in slavery but sends it to suppress other people revolting against slavery as was done in 1849 when Russian troops put down the revolution in Hungary,'" Thomas said.

"What do you Russians imagine the world thinks of Bulganin's use of your sons to imitate the Czarists and drown Hungarian freedom in blood on the very anniversary of Lenin's revolution?"

"I trust St. Joseph Aspirin For Children" says MRS. D. HOLLISTER, Los Angeles. It's trusted by more mothers, approved by more doctors, liked by more children than any other brand. Accurate dosage is assured.

Nixon and Kefauver Seen Party Leaders in '60; Both Are Formidable Contenders

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Never before has an election left the winning and losing vice presidential candidates in such promising political spots.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon long ago was tagged by his Democratic opposition as a likely heir to the White House during the next four years if President Eisenhower won re-election.

In any case, they predicted he would become the Republican Party leader and the GOP's 1960 presidential nominee. Under the two-term amendment Mr. Eisenhower cannot succeed himself even if he was so minded at age 70.

Tennessee's Sen. Estes Kefauver, the loser, finds himself in a spot which logically could bring him the Democratic presidential nomination four years hence. Kefauver twice has gone to Democratic conventions with a bundle of delegate votes and a giant killer record in the presidential primaries.

Twice—in 1952 and again this year—the big city bosses, organized labor and the conservative South have teamed up to prevent Kefauver's nomination for president.

Estes Has New Friends

Once a politician comes down with presidential fever, however, he rarely recovers. It is reason able to believe that Kefauver will be out campaigning again in the 1960 presidential primaries. He will be a formidable contender on the basis of past performance.

Kefauver attained new and more substantial national prominence in his recent campaign. The friends and experience accumulated in those long journeys will be a source of new strength for Kefauver if he seeks his party's top nomination in 1960.

Stevenson presumably must be counted out as a factor in 1960 Democratic presidential politics. He's a two-time loser, both times by big margins. It was Stevenson's bad luck to be born a few years too soon, just in time to oppose the best vote-getter the Republicans ever have had.

Kefauver apparently did not contribute the expected farm strength to the Democratic ticket. Although all the returns are not in, President Eisenhower seems to have won a majority of the farm vote.

Disliked by Truman

This does not seriously rub off on Kefauver, however. It is no cardinal political sin to fail to accomplish the impossible. And it apparently was impossible to persuade millions of voters that deep, down in their hearts, they did not like Ike.

Kefauver is not a popular figure with Democratic leaders. Harry S. Truman is Kefauver's avowed political enemy and may be expected to oppose him in the future as in the past. But the senator is a big party man in his own right now. He is beholden to no party bosses and is demonstrably popular among the party rank-and-file.

The senator went to the 1952 Democratic national convention with more pledged delegates than any other candidate. He led the first two presidential ballots only to falter in the stretch. However, there is a substantial Kefauver bloc in the party rank and file as of now. It is likely to increase under the nation's astute cultivation.

So, too, in the Republican Party does Nixon have solid support. They are able young men and one of them is quite likely to go to the top.

National Retarded Children's Week Begins Nov. 11; Tag Day on Nov. 17

Jack Benny, famous comedian and television star, and Louis B. Cuyler of the First National City Bank, as joint fund drive chairmen, announced that National Retarded Children's Week begins Nov. 11 throughout the country.

In Seattle where the National Association for Retarded Children held its annual convention on Oct. 15 Mr. Cuyler said that while great strides had been made during the past three years for the nearly five million retarded children and adults in the United States, much remains to be done.

Four hundred communities and tens of thousands of volunteer workers will call upon their fellow citizens to raise money for mentally retarded children under the auspices of the National Association for Retarded Children in Saline County. The drive officially starts on Nov. 11 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Aaron Dudley.

A number of eighth grade pupils from the Junior high school will sell tags in Harrisburg on Saturday, Nov. 17.

It is to research that we must look for the eventual knowledge which will help eliminate this tragic human handicap, Mr. Cuyler said. "Money for research is pitifully inadequate at present," he noted, "and money to maintain the hundreds of facilities the retarded need so that they can develop to their fullest capabilities is also lacking."

Mr. Benny, in a stirring appeal made in a letter read to the convention, pledged his efforts to bring to as many Americans as possible a greater sense that the mentally retarded must be accepted and understood in the communities.

"The mentally retarded, as you well know," he told the assemblies of hundreds of parents of retarded children, "are more like normal children than they are different. We must continue to do all in our power to help them to lead rich and rewarding lives which can be theirs if given a chance."

Ike Predicted He Would Win By Big Electoral Vote

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The White House disclosed today that President Eisenhower figured all along he would win more than 400 electoral votes.

He even put the prediction down on paper about four days ago.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave out this much information on the President's expectations. But he declined to tell reporters the exact number of electoral votes the President predicted he would get.

Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower's personal secretary, Ann Whitman, won "a little guessing game" among White House aides who tried to forecast Mr. Eisenhower's majority. She predicted 470 electoral votes; the President actually got 457.

Hagerty said his own prediction was 432 electoral votes.

59th District Representatives Elected Without Opposition; Races in Other Areas

The 59th Representative district of which Saline county is a part elected its state representatives without opposition but there were races in neighboring legislative districts.

The 59th, comprising Saline, Galatin, Williamson, Hardin, Pope, Johnson, Massac and Hamilton counties, returned Paul Powell, Vienna Democrat, and Gordon Kerr, Brookport Republican, to the state house of representatives along with a newcomer, C. L. McCormick, Vienna Republican.

There was no election for state senator in the 51st Senatorial district, composed of Saline, Johnson, Pope, Hardin and Massac counties.

In the neighboring 55th Senatorial district composed of Galatin, White, Hamilton and Franklin counties, Paul A. Zeigler, Carmi Democrat, beat Luther Burpo, Brookport Republican, for the office by a vote of 22,948 to 18,927.

Paul Broyles, Mt. Vernon Republican, won for state senator in the 46th Senatorial district composed of Jefferson, Wayne, Edwards and Wabash counties, beating Warren Crispin, Cisne Democrat, 20,555 to 16,746.

In the 56th Representative district S. O. Dale, Fairfield Republican, Garret Burgoon, Lawrenceville Republican, and Ray Koehler, Grayville Democrat, were elected. Loser was Normal L. Benefield, Newton Democrat.

County races not included in yesterday's news report in this area had the following results:

Russia Accused Of Mass Murder

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Cuba accused Russia today of the crime of genocide—mass murder for political, religious or racial reasons—against the free Hungarian people.

Puppet Hungary protested that a U. N. debate of Soviet military activity in the country is illegal, but the General Assembly brushed against the protest and went ahead with the discussion it started last week.

Clements Loses, But Demos Control Congress

crats would be in command of the House when the new Congress meets in January. They had elected 23 members and led in three undecided races for an indicated total of 234, 15 over a majority. They held 231 seats in the expiring Congress.

The Republicans had elected 198 members and led in three undecided races for an indicated total of 201.

Never before has a president been elected by a landslide majority as Mr. Eisenhower was this week and failed to carry his party with him into control of both houses of Congress.

In 1848, 1876 and 1884 when the president's party lost one or both houses of Congress, the man elected actually polled less than a majority of the popular vote.

Late returns continued to swell the majority by which Mr. Eisenhower won his second term.

The latest United Press count in the presidential vote gave Mr. Eisenhower 33,345,653 and Adlai E. Stevenson, the defeated Democratic candidate, 24,441,366. About 6 per cent of the precincts in the nation were still untallied.

With his margin mounting toward 9 million, Mr. Eisenhower's plurality was second only to that of 10,797,090 polled by President Roosevelt over Alfred M. Landon in 1936.

The electoral vote count was 457 for the president and 74 for Stevenson with 268 needed to win. Politicians were still seeking explanations for the contrast between the GOP presidential vote and the Democratic congressional vote.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall confessed that Mr. Eisenhower's "popularity is far above that of the party." Sen. Andrew J. Schoepel, chairman of the GOP senatorial campaign committee, said he was still trying to figure out why the President could win so easily while some of his most staunch supporters were de-seated in senatorial contests.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn said the Democrats won majorities in Congress because "the people just don't like the Republican Party."

Marshall Field, Philanthropist, Publisher Dies

NEW YORK — Marshall Field III, banker, publisher and philanthropist, died today in New York Hospital where he recently underwent brain surgery.

Field, founder of the Chicago Sun, which later became the Chicago Sun-Times, entered the hospital Oct. 21. A brief announcement today said the multi-millionaire died at 5 a. m.

Field was born in Chicago in Sept. 1893. Both his father and grandfather, the famed merchant prince Marshall Field I, died while he was still a child.

He was left a fortune estimated at 120 million dollars.

Field entered the newspaper business in 1940 when he invested $200,000 to help found the paper, PM, in New York. The paper didn't catch on and Field sold it.

In 1941 he founded the Chicago Sun, three days before Pearl Harbor. Six years later he bought control of the Times and merged the papers into the Chicago Sun-Times.

Field remained as publisher and president until 1950 when he turned the newspaper over to his eldest son, Marshall Jr.

Field was widely known for his many philanthropies and his staunch New Dealism.

Field once estimated his gifts to various charities at more than $500,000 a year.

Field married three times and divorced twice. He had three children by his first wife and two by his third.

His present wife, Ruth, was at his bedside when he died.

Galatia, Mrs. Robert Miley, chairman—Mt. Moriah church, Irwin Braden; Union Chapel Presbyterian, Rev. Vola Sittig.

Alfred Adams, Red Cross chapter chairman, and Mrs. B. E. Montgomery, Saline County Blood Recruitment chairman, urge every chairman to get as many donors as possible to give blood when the bloodmobile is at the Methodist Education Building in Eldorado Thursday, Nov. 15, and at the Harrisburg Elks club on Friday, Nov. 16. Donors may come at any time between 12 noon and 6 p. m.

The Blood program committee was pleased with the number of "first time donors" who gave blood in August, but Saline County was 196 pints short as the quota for August was 350 pints. It is important that the quota be reached in November. The quota will be 350 pints or 175 pints each day.

Navy Balloon Drops from Record Height

RAPID CITY, S. D. — A huge balloon today carried two Navy pilots to a new manned-balloon altitude record, then spun 78,000 feet out of control and dropped to earth near Kennedy, Neb.

The two pilots apparently "walked away" from remains of the stricken device. The cause of the near disaster was not determined immediately.

The two men were reported picked up by helicopter shortly after the gondola reached earth.

The balloon was reported down and the pilots "walking around" about 8 miles southwest of Kennedy, in rough country just south of the Badlands.

Court Upholds Convictions in '54 Vote Frauds

CHICAGO — Prison sentences for five men convicted of vote fraud in 1954 have been upheld by the Federal Court of Appeals.

The court ruled Wednesday on a jury decision which found the defendants were involved in a conspiracy to deprive citizens of constitutional rights.

Involved was the senatorial contest between Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) and Republican Joseph Meek in the 7th Precinct of the 1st Ward in Chicago. Douglas polled 378 votes to 36 for Meek in the precinct.

The appeals court said it found "no fewer than 70 votes were false and fictitious."

Louis William Nathan, 71, owner of the 606 Club and Democratic precinct captain, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment and a $4,000 fine.

Other defendants and sentences were: Gaetano Alviti, 52, Oak Lawn, manager of the 606 Club, 4 1-2 years and $2,500 fine;

Joseph Anthony Girolamo, 27, Democratic judge in the election, four years and $200 fine;

Frank Cleo Tornabene, 29, Republican judge, four years and $200 fine.

Patrick Knight, 39, Republican clerk, four years and $200 fine.

GOP to Stress Modern Party: Hall

WASHINGTON — GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today that more impetus will be put behind President Eisenhower's "modern Republican" party in the next four years.

Hall met briefly with Mr. Eisenhower to decide upon a chairman of the inaugural committee. They picked Robert V. Fleming, chairman of the board of the Riggs National Bank here.

Hall said Mr. Eisenhower naturally "would like to have seen a Republican Congress" elected.

She is seeking to find the watch through a Daily Register classified ad, and a reward is offered for its return.

Hungary Rebels Open New Front

VIENNA — Diehard Hungarian patriots have renewed their fight against the Soviets in Budapest and opened a "third front" near the Yugoslav border, radio reports from Hungary said today.

Faint signals from a radio transmitter inside the ruined Hungarian capital served notice the rebel spirit had not been daunted by Soviet firepower.

"The freedom fighters are becoming tired, yet enthusiasm is even greater than before," the broadcast said. "Please help us save our country."

It added they had food left for less than a week.

The broadcast followed other rebel reports the Soviets were expected to purge the new puppet Premier Janos Kadar for his failure to command the support of the Hungarian people.

The broadcasts said the Russians had dropped his name from the Soviet - controlled broadcasts and newspapers in Budapest and that chances were that he would be "liquidated" for his failures.

Refugees who poured across the border into Yugoslavia disclosed the freedom fighters had retreated into thick swampland along the frontier to open yet another "front" against the Russian troops and tanks.

Israel Defies UN and Appeal By Eisenhower

LONDON — Israel defied the United Nations and a personal appeal from President Eisenhower today and began digging permanent fortification 10 miles east of the Suez Canal—some 120 miles beyond its old borders.

There also were strong indications Great Britain and France would ignore the U. N. call to withdraw all their forces from Egyptian territory, at least until a U. N. international police force actually arrives on the scene.

Scattered fighting still was reported in Port Said a full day after a cease fire was ordered there. But dispatches from the city indicated the fire came from a handful of Egyptian snipers and Anglo-French troops sent to wipe out the snipers nests.

The situation remained tense throughout the Middle East and diplomats feared that war could flame anew at any time. Diplomats were disturbed at Soviet insistence on sending troops to the Middle East and at reports of Iraq and Syrian troop movements into Jordan.

Possible Showdown Looms
There were unconfirmed reports Saudi Arabia also was moving troops into Jordan in preparation for a possible showdown with Israel, and unconfirmed rumors in Damascus that Soviet troops were massing on Iranian frontiers to the northeast.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold warned Israel Wednesday he would ask for United Nations action unless it withdraws its forces. Israel has declared the Egyptian-Israeli armistice dead and said it would allow no foreign troops to enter the territory it now occupies.

President Eisenhower also sent a personal appeal to Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion asking him to comply with the U. N. resolution of Sunday calling for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egyptian territory.

Two Robinson Boys Play Hockey, Hurt, And Land In Jail

ROBINSON, Ill. — Playing hockey from school has led to jail and hospitalization for two Robinson youngsters.

Authorities said Harold Petzel and Jerry Inboden, both 15, decided to hold up the Tom Low-rance grocery near here after leaving school. Lowrance struggled with the youths, who were armed with a shotgun and rifle, and they fled in a stolen car.

State police and county officers gave chase. Petzel was hit in the shoulder by a stray bullet as officers fired at the tires of the auto. He was taken to the hospital. Inboden was jailed on a charge of attempted armed robbery.

MISS NANCY PYLE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Pyle of Carrier Mills, was crowned Harvest Queen of 1956 as a climax to the Halloween celebration in Carrier Mills. The Harvest Queen contest is sponsored annually by the Carrier Mills Lions club and Harry McAtee, club president, placed the crown on Miss Nancy's head, proclaiming her Harvest Queen.

Day of the Outlaw

By Lee Wells

Copyright 1955, by Lee Wells. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Tension between Blaise Starrett, owner of the Star ranch, and Hal Crane of the HC ranch, reached the breaking point in the Wyoming Saloon of Bitter. Then the door opens and in come nine hard-bitten men. Bartender Tommy Rikes recognizes the leader as Jack Bruhn, a notorious outlaw.

Tommy Rikes' voice carried clearly, and now the nine strangers had an aura of evil and danger. They eased into the big room, forming a crude half circle with their leader in the center. They offered no threat and yet they placed themselves so that they commanded every man, every move.

The man who had spoken so easily walked to a table, sat on its edge, one leg swinging free. His hand remained close to his gun. That man, Dan knew, would like to see a killing.

Dan looked at the leader who showed no expression on the square, commanding face. Dan saw the man just beyond him sway slightly. His face was drawn, the squinted eyes filled with pain and slightly glazed. His coat parted and Dan saw the bloodstain along the left side near the hip. They're on the run, maybe ugly.

The man perched on the edge of the table looked from Crane to Starrett, back to Crane again.

"Well," he said with a chuckle, "go to it."

The big man spoke, his deep voice level. "Leave it alone, Tex. This is none of our business. That goes for the rest of you."

"Why, Jack," Tex spread his hands in an elaborate gesture, "no harm in watching."

Ava suddenly arose and left the room by a door just behind the bar. Jack Bruhn halted in mid-stride and his voice was suddenly sharp.

"Where'd she go?"

"Just into the storeroom," Tommy answered. Jack eyed him levelly, then signaled a bearded man just behind him. "Check it, Denver." As the man started past, Jack gripped his arm. "Leave the woman alone . . . no passes."

Denver chuckled. "At my age?" He circled the bar and opened the door. Denver opened the door and looked inside.

"Your pardon, ma'am," he said, closed the door and turned. "Store-room, Jack."

Starrett and Crane had forgotten one another and they slowly wheeled about as the outlaws joined Bruhn. Two of the outlaws, however, remained by the door.

Tommy Rikes stood uncertain as though for the first time in his life he feared to see his bar lined with customers. Bruhn flipped a coin on the bar.

"Drinks, friend, all around. Don't worry about your cash till. We've got enough of our own."

Tommy suddenly sprang at the row of whisky bottles as though serving the drinks offered reassurance and protection. He came to Dan, looked up, surprised that this was not another outlaw. Dan smiled and nodded, and Tommy showed a spark of new courage as he poured the drink.

Crane signaled his two men and they left the bar. Bruhn's heavy voice filled the room, easy, level, and yet carrying a threat. "Where you rannies headed?"

Two outlaws turned with an easy, fluid motion and impassively watched the two riders who halted dead in their tracks, their faces blank with a kind of fearful surprise.

"Better stick around, friends," Bruhn said. "We might not stay long and we like your company."

Dan eased up from the bar. He could see quick anger touch Crane, then indecision, followed by anger again. Lewis and Claggett stood unmoving. If Crane took the challenge, then there was nothing for it but to take a hand. Dan watched the man called Tex and the breed beside him. Take them first, he thought, then hope you're alive to get another one.

Dan continued to watch the mirror, studying each man reflected there. Nine of them and, right now, six of us . . . make it five since you couldn't count on Tommy Rikes. Odds two to one, maybe more, for these nine men are used to violence. Dan frowned, feeling trapped.

The man with the bloody shirt leaned heavily on the bar, head hanging slightly. Now he convulsively picked up his glass and downed the drink. He stood a moment, then passed his hand over his face, turned and staggered to the nearest table. He fell heavily into a chair and pillowed his head in his arms. His decrepit black hat fell to the floor.

Jack Bruhn slapped his glass on the bar, walked to the table. The leader shook the wounded man, who only mumbled incoherently.

"How is it, Shorty?" Bruhn asked and there was a strange, gentle note to his voice. Shorty turned his head and Dan saw the pallor on his cheeks beneath the stubble.

"I . . . I'll be all right, Jack. Don't worry about me . . . I'll keep up."

"Sure, Shorty." Bruhn glanced up, caught the questioning look of the man called Tex and the strapping with the pale face and strange eyes. Bruhn shrugged and frowned, looked around to the bar.

"Is there a doctor in this town?" His harsh eyes rested on Tommy, who licked his lips and hastily nodded.

"Sure, sure! Doc Langer. Back of the blacksmith shop."

Young Marrieds Told To Live Simply

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(UP)—Young marrieds should forget heavy silver and cut crystal and concentrate on living simply, a home economist says.

Francis M. Obst, who teaches house planning and decoration at the University of California, says that baroque silver, fine china and crystal, while beautiful, often are impractical for couples living in small apartments or houses.

She said such expenditures drain money away from necessary durable kitchen ware and upholstered pieces, and often don't go with the informal living pattern of most young marrieds.

Humm's to Display New Oldsmobile With Sweeping Body Changes Friday

Oldsmobile for 1957 with the most sweeping model change in the past 20 years, will go on display Friday at the Humm Motor company, local dealer.

The body is completely new with new "pivot-poise" front suspension of a design that resists dipping. Improved rear suspension, a new 277-h.p. "Rocket" engine, known as the T-400 due to its high torque throughout the driving range, and new 14-inch wheels.

Outstanding styling note is the accent stripe, an Oldsmobile exclusive, that runs more than half the length of the car's side panels between narrow chrome mouldings. This marks the first new style trend in exterior color application since Oldsmobile introduced two-tone color styling in the body in 1954. The accent stripe permits a new two-tone effect, with the car painted one color and the accent stripe in a contrasting color. However, the conventional two-tone styling is still available as an optional extra.

Four new body styles have been added to the 1957 Oldsmobile line—three Fiesta station wagon models and an economy priced "88" convertible coupe. The division of body styles for 1957 includes seven in the Golden Rocket "88" series, six in the Super "88" series and four in the Starfire "98" series.

The streamlined 1957 Oldsmobile silhouette, more than two inches lower and nearly five inches longer than last year, presents as its most salient styling motif the new accent stripe. The accent stripe is available in eight colors that contrast with the body color. It originates just forward of the dip in the belt line and sweeps downwards and then through the rear fender panel to the taillight trim.

Another styling innovation is the twin "Sky-line" beading that originates at the top of the windshield on each side of the roof and sweeps rearwards through the struts that divide the rear window into three glass areas and thence across the rear deck almost to its base. The twin struttred rear windows give a distinctive appearance to the rear view. The sculptured rear fenders also forecast a new styling trend, their graceful surfaces helping to accentuate the long rear fender crown.

Most marked interior change is the strut-mounted instrument panel adapted from Oldsmobile's experimental Delta. This strut panel, which extends from one side of the body to the other, is set back from the windshield base or cowl panel and leaves an air space back of the windshield for better air circulation and instrument accessibility. The steering wheel is deeply re-up a room or give a seasonal touch. They add nothing to the physical comfort of the chairs or sofas. They do not change the size of the piece nor the basic use.

People, like furniture, need to be adjusted for the seasons of the year and for the uses to which their lives are put. All of us need to change our attitudes from time to time and to clean up our daily living. We may be basically functioning as religious beings, but our influence may have become ineffective by routine use. We may have become spiritually dusty or faded.

All of us can stand a few sets of slip covers so that we can offer new comforts to our associates who need a changed view of the presence of God in people.

Oyster Habitat

Some species of oysters will grow in sea water, but the brackish waters of bays, inlets, and river mouths are a prerequisite for most culture.

Six European nations are traversed by the Danube River, 1,750 miles long, on its way to the Black Sea.

SWEEEPING MODEL CHANGE IN '57 OLDSMOBILE. Completely new styling from hooded headlamps to taillights features Oldsmobile for 1957, with the most sweeping model change in 20 years, as presented in this Super "88" Holiday coupe. "Sky-line" beading down the roof extends into the rear deck and sets off the twin-struttred rear windows with three separate glass areas. Distinguishing the new front end are the new "hi-lo" bumper, twin front fender rocket emblems and parking lights adapted from the experimental Golden Rocket. Inside there is a new strut-mounted instrument panel and a wide variety of new upholstery fabrics and colors. Mechanically, there is a new 277-h. p. "Rocket" engine; improved front and rear suspension, 14-inch wheels and a more efficient dual-range heater. The new Oldsmobile will be on display Friday at the Humm Motor Company.

RAMBLER BOASTS NEW STYLING. The front end of the 1957 Rambler has been redesigned to give the car a more massive appearance, and the side color panel has been changed to give the car a low, sleek look. Thirteen models are available, including this Custom four-door hardtop sedan. The new Rambler is on display at Burgess Motor Company, local dealer.

1957 Rambler, Featuring Compactness, Economy, on Display at Burgess'

The 1957 Rambler, featuring compactness, economy, new styling and a higher power-range, is on display today at the Burgess Motor company, local dealer.

A V-8 engine, rated at 190 horsepower, will be available for the first time on the new Rambler. The economy-champion "six," boosted to 125 horsepower, also will be offered. With an optional dual-throat carburetor, horsepower of the "six" will be increased to 135.

The new V-8 series was added to fill out the line of Ramblers, which has become the basic volume car of American Motors Corporation.

"We are confident that the V-8 engine, plus the new styling, will further boost the popularity of the Rambler, which has made great strides in the past two years," said Roy Abernethy, vice-president of distribution and marketing for American Motors.

"While the Rambler is 1 1/2 feet shorter and several inches narrower than the average U. S. car, its interior dimensions are equal or superior to its bulkier competitors," Abernethy said. "Its front-seat hiproom, for example, measures 59 1/2 inches. The Rambler's design concept is to eliminate bulk without sacrificing roominess or comfort."

Thirteen models are in the 1957 line, six of which are V-8s. All are on a 108-inch wheelbase. The V-8 models are the Custom hardtop station wagon and hardtop sedan, Custom and Super station wagons and sedans. The "six" series includes the Custom and Super station wagon; Custom, Super and Deluxe sedan, and a Super hardtop. A Deluxe station wagon is available as a fleet model.

To enhance the inherent safety of American Motors' exclusive unitized construction, in which the body and frame members are fused into one integral unit with 9,000 welds, a safety package of padded instrument panel and padded sun visors is offered. Safety belts also are available. Safety door locks, which help prevent the doors from popping open in the event of a collision, continue to be standard equipment.

Airliner reclining seats and twin travel beds continue to be offered on all Ramblers. With a simple lift of a handle on the sides of the seats they can be lowered into five different positions, the final one of which makes them into twin beds. This is a feature especially liked by travelers and sportsmen.

Acoustacord seat springs, which are rubber coated, are used to give maximum comfort.

Truman Disappointed In Stevenson's Loss

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former President Truman said today he was "disappointed" in Adlai Stevenson's loss to President Eisenhower, but "the people have spoken and good citizens will abide by the results."

Mr. Truman in reply to all questions involving party controversy said such questions would have to await analysis of the reasons for Mr. Eisenhower's heavy majority "which came as a surprise to me."

First Baptist Church to Begin Revival Sunday in Redecorated Auditorium

The First Baptist church of Harrisburg will begin a revival in its newly decorated auditorium Sunday morning, Nov. 11. The work of remodeling the auditorium has been going on for several weeks and will need only the new carpet to be completed on the inside. The great majority of the work has been on a voluntary basis by the men of the church under the leadership of Paul Hays.

Vince Cervera will be the evangelist for the 8-day meeting. He comes to Harrisburg with the reputation of being one of the finest evangelists in America today. "From other churches that have had Cervera we have received nothing but glowing reports, the pastor the Rev. Joe Morman, states. "Vince has a pleasing personality and the intensity of the Latins. He has appeared before over five hundred student bodies including high schools, colleges, universities and seminaries and is scheduled to speak to the high school student body Friday, Nov. 16," Rev. Morman says.

In his meetings last year there were 1,059 additions to Southern Baptist churches. Just recently

Vince Cervera

Mr. Cervera conducted a revival in West Frankfort, and that church gave this report of his work:

"The First church, West Frankfort, has experienced an outstanding revival under the leadership of Evangelist Vince Cervera of Greenville, S. C. Large crowds attended the services each night. Rev. T. H. King, pastor, states that the revival was the best attended in the 13 years that he has been pastor at West Frankfort.

In the eight days of revival there were 25 additions for baptism and five by letter. Fifty-one young people walked the aisles on Saturday night indicating that they wanted their lives to count for God. Other spiritual accomplishments of the revival was the establishing of family altars in a number of homes, and the rededicating of lives to God on the part of adults as well as the youth of the church.

"Bro. Cervera proved to be an accomplished music director in leading the congregational singing and in directing the large choir each night. The preaching of Bro. Cervera produced conviction as it challenged the hearts of the listeners. His preaching was with compassion." Pastor King says that by a rising vote on Sunday morning the church enthusiastically asked Rev. Cervera to come and be with the church again in a revival effort.

Halley's comet last was seen in 1910 and will appear again in 1986.

Grayson's SCOREBOARD

Grayson Picks Tennessee Over Georgia Tech; Minnesota Over Iowa

If college football teams could be paired like prize fighters, a promoter would be unable to make a more attractive match than the one taking Tennessee to Georgia Tech's Grant Field on Saturday afternoon.

Iowa deploys against Minnesota in Minneapolis with both sides looking through Rose Bowl-colored glasses.

Oregon State tackles Stanford in Palo Alto for the fight to hold up the Pacific Coast Conference end, but the game of the day definitely is the Battle of Atlanta, bringing out the all-conquering athletes of the foremost disciples of Gen. Bob Neyland, Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech and Tennessee's Bowden Wyatt.

This is the day the handicapper must stick out his neck, so let's go on record before going into details. The selections are Tennessee to shade Georgia Tech, 14-7; Minnesota to remain unbeaten against Iowa, 16-14; and John Brodie and Stanford to get back on the right track against Oregon State, 20-14.

Oklahoma not excepted, a lot of people as far north as Maine consider Tennessee and Georgia Tech the finest college squads in the country. That is why more than a capacity of 41,000 seats were sold before fall practice and classes started. Scalpers are collecting $50 for duets.

THIS IS VASTLY MORE than a scrap for Dixie supremacy and prestige. The winner will have the inside track on the rich New Orleans Sugar Bowl appointment, Jan. 1. Down for two campaigns, Tennessee bounced back more than somewhat last trip with a 6-1 record. The Vols, long a power, are understandably tired of seeing Georgia Tech get all that post-season swag. Dodd's varieties have been in seven Bowl games and won them all.

Tech managed to score in the final period a year ago to get a 7-7 draw with Tennessee after taking a severe physical beating, and now the Vols believe they have the momentum to go all the way.

This is a duel between Wyatt's embellished single wing and Dodd's modern T, with plenty of skilled, fleet and well-drilled operatives to execute all the intricate maneuvers they unfold.

Tech has 35 accomplished football players, Tennessee 22, which is enough. Running the belly series and otherwise out of the T, Tech has nine top-flight backs, five of whom scare you to death. The latter are Halfbacks Paul Rotenberry, George Volkert and Jimmy Thompson and Fullbacks Ken Owen, who punts, and Dickie Mattison, all 6-2½ and 204 pounds of him. The Tech linemen move rapidly, the guards, starting with Jimmy Johnson and Allen Ecker, pulling out to lead plays.

TENNESSEE STICKOUTS are Johnny Majors, whom Athletic Director Neyland considers the most accomplished tailback and old-fashioned triple threat in his 30 years in Knoxville; Wingback Bill Anderson; Buddy Cruze, passing end; and Captain John Gordy, a 212-pound tackle who becomes a guard on defense. Gordy is the biggest man in an exceptionally swift line.

Wyatt's counterpart of the belly series is a fullback draw with either Majors keeping or handing off to Fullback Tommy Bronson. This play sends the fullback off to the opposite side when the defense overshifts, keeps the opposition from jamming up on the side the play is being run. Wyatt splits the right side of his line, flanks Cruze a bit and with the fullback draw keeping the defense honest, everything else looks good.

While Dodd switched to the T, he has not changed the defense developed at Tennessee by Neyland, especially that against passing. The idea is to protect against long gainers in midfield, but rack everything up inside the 20. Both sides quick kick on second and third down and put pressure on the defense.

This is largely a battle of seniors—for men only.

Abe Woodson, Len Dawson Lead Big 10 Offense

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois' Abe Woodson, who switches from track to football as the season dictates, and Purdue's Len Dawson, whose strength lies in the upper atmosphere, continue to be the Big Ten's offensive leaders, conference statistics showed today.

Team strength, however, was a one-school proposition, with Michigan State's powerful Spartans leading the conference in both offense and defense.

Woodson, whose brilliant running was the key factor in Illinois' upset 20-13 victory over the Spartans two weeks ago, was held to his season's low of 66 yards against Purdue. The senior halfback, who won conference hurdling championships during the track season, nevertheless chalked up 445 yards to date.

Dawson, at home in his accustomed role as the Big Ten's leading passer, has racked up 576 yards via the airwaves and tops the conference in total offense with 582 yards.

Michigan State, successfully combining a strong ground game with a pinpoint pass attack, has ground out an average of 358 yards per game, 254.5 on the ground and 104.5 in the air.

Ohio State, with 256 rushing yards per contest, holds a slight edge on the Spartans in that department. Defensively, however, Michigan State, having allowed opponents but 239 yards per game, is well ahead of its nearest challenger, Purdue, which gave up 246.2.

In individual statistics, Woodson is trailed by Purdue's Mel Dillard and Ohio's Don Clark. Dawson is followed by Michigan State's Pat Wilson and Michigan's Bob Placek in the passing department and by Iowa's Kenny Ploen and Woodson in the total offense department.

Endorse Plans to Move SIU College Of Education to Proposed New Building

CARBONDALE, Ill.—An advisory committee of southern Illinois school and civic leaders has endorsed plans for moving the SIU College of Education from crowded barracks into a proposed three-story building at Southern Illinois University.

Serving on the committee are citizens who for several years have advocated the expansion of facilities for training teachers at the University, where enrollment this year reached 6,300 students.

Although the College of Education has more students than any SIU college, its facilities are among the poorest, Dean J. E. Grinnell pointed out this week at a meeting of the committee. Administrative offices are located in a former residence and other offices and classrooms are confined to surplus Army barracks, Grinnell said.

SIUParents to Receive Handbook

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Just in time for Parents Day Saturday a 16-page "Handbook for Parents" is being issued by Southern Illinois University's Office of Student Affairs.

Parents of every student enrolled will receive a copy of the illustrated booklet, which briefly explains services available to students and parents, the grading system, and University policy on student housing, automobiles and financial aid.

After the initial distribution, only parents of new students at Southern will receive the handbook, according to I. Clark Davis, acting director of student affairs.

Davis said the booklet is the first SIU publication directed specifically to parents.

Saturday's Parents Day program will feature a trophy presentation to the couple selected as "Parents of the Day," a variety show, a luncheon, a water show, and a football game, SIU vs. Illinois Normal.

Eldorado Eagles Close Out Grid Season at Metropolis Friday

The Eldorado Eagles travel to Metropolis Friday night looking for victory number 8 to close out a highly successful 1956 football season.

And records would indicate Eldorado shouldn't have too much trouble picking up a win.

To date the Eagles have won seven and dropped one decision while Metropolis has been having its troubles. During the past month Metropolis has been beaten by Albion 21-12, McLeansboro 39-13, Anna 37-0 and Cairo 38-12. Eldorado has victories over three—Cairo, Anna, McLeansboro—of the four.

Dolphin Queen to Be Crowned at SIU Swimming Show

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Spectators attending Southern Illinois University's variety swimming show here Nov. 8-9-10 will find themselves the judges in a beauty contest to pick a Dolphin Queen from 31 SIU co-ed contestants.

A group of the queen candidates will appear at each of the first four shows, the audience selecting the top two in each division. The eight will compete for the title in the final show.

More than 70 SIU students will take part in the show, which will feature the SIU swimming team, comedy diving, the SIU Aquettes, entertainer Pat Cook of Ottawa, the SIU gymnastic team, and diving demonstrations by Roger Council, Wood River; and Bruce Coleman, West Frankfort.

Another addition to the show, which is entitled, "Mr. Dolphin Presents," will be diving demonstrations by two Benton high school twins, Leon and Deon McClarren.

Show times will be at 8 p. m. Thursday, Nov. 8, 7 and 8:45 p. m. Nov. 9, 7 and 8:45 p. m. and 8:45 Nov. 10. (Admission is 75 cents.)

Queen candidates include Pat Elder, Eldorado; Suzanne Kilmire and Marjorie Zimmer, Harrisburg.

NO MORE WORRIES—Kansas basketball coach Dick Harp felt a bit better about things when Wilt The Still Chamberlain, his seven-foot sophomore, returned to practice. Chamberlain had been confined for minor throat surgery.
